Road Program for Lee
Co. Headache for Supervisors

At noon today it was indicated that improvements were being contemplated by the Lee county road and bridge committee under the county WPA program for the Rock Island road and to relieve Eldena. At this morning's session of the board of supervisors Chairman Archer of the road and bridge committee requested the board members to outline a mile of road to be improved under the WPA program in addition to the sections of the county home road which were suggested at the close of yesterday's long session.

Supervisor John Emmitt of Nelson township requested that one mile be selected on the Rock Island road to be improved under the new WPA program and preferred a section east of the North-Western cut-off crossing, which section has been impassable at certain seasons of the year. There was no opposition from the board members, although Supervisor Mau of Hamilton township favored the inclusion of additional culverts to be constructed under the program.

The educational committee submitted a report recommending an appropriation of $100 for the Lee County Home Bureau, which at Tuesday's session requested a donation of $200. The town accounts committee submitted its report of the tax levies in the various townships, which was approved by the board, and the lists of grand jurors as well as petit jurors for the ensuing year were selected.

Yesterday members of the board were told that they acted like school boys by Supervisor Archer, when he pleaded for the adoption of a WPA program to provide for the county's unemployed this winter. The Brooklyn township representative voiced this opinion after the board had buffeted two proposals without the semblance of arriving at a workable program, and as the second day's session of the September meeting closed it was apparent that Eldena would receive an improved road within the next year which might be black top, despite the statements made Tuesday that the citizens of that vicinity did not want such a road.

A motion and second had been made and the board had voted to adjourn when Supervisor Archer arose and informed the members that without a WPA program for this winter, 122 men would be thrown back on the townships to be cared for on relief and that in some townships the treasuries would not stand such action. He asked that bickering be cast aside and that the members concentrate on some project which could be adopted and become workable.

The motion and second for adjournment were withdrawn and again the discussion began with various members asking for projects in their respective townships. Assistant Supervisor Leon Garrison of Dixon arose and, when the board was quieted, stated that he had taken no part in the previous two-day discussions, but desired to put an end to the subject. In his motion he suggested that the road and bridge committee present a report at the meeting today which would provide for the improvement of two sections of the county home road not included in the present project. One section would be from the White Temple school corner at the junction with U. S. route 52 southeastward for a distance of about three-quarters of a mile to connect with the present project. The second section would include a stretch of about the same length extending from the Eldena school corner into the village of Eldena. These two sections would be added to the other projects named in two reports which had previously been submitted to the board for consideration.

Make Unsigned Report
At the opening of the afternoon session Chairman Archer of the road and bridge committee presented an unsigned report to the chairman of the board which contained all of the projects outlined in Tuesday recommendation from the committee to the board with the exception of the new and principal project which was changed from the suggested 18 foot concrete spur road running west from Eldena and supplemented the Rock Island road. A committee member later stated that the report was not a recommendation. I was apparent near the close of Tuesday afternoon's session that the Nelson township citizens' request would not be heeded when one member of the board was heard waging another that if presented, the measure would be defeated. A new hat which was reported to have been wadded on the outcome of the Rock Island road proposal, was lost and there were rumors that the road north of Franklin Grove joining Ogles

Foreign Affairs
Handling Clumsy
Says Win Wilkie

Rushville, Ind., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Describing President Roosevelt's handling of foreign affairs as "clumsy," Wendell L. Wilkie said today that "the United States cannot but fail in the present world struggle under such leadership."

In a statement issued just before going to Indianapolis for a conference with other Republican leaders, the presidential candidate made this comment on Roosevelt's address last night:

"I have never felt so discouraged about the outcome of the election as I did after listening to Mr. Roosevelt's speech last night. 'If the American people have any sense of realism of the condition of the world in which they are living, they will reject overwhelmingly a president who preaches such a class conscious and economic sabotage doctrine as was preached last night. 'The kindest words which can be applied to the president's speech are that he does not understand the laws of economics, government finance, or the forces at work in the world today. Nazis Charge British
Are Sowing Potato Bugs
Berlin, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Authorized German sources charged today that British airmen are throwing bags of "Colorado potato bugs" into potato fields in Germany, Luxembourg and Belgium in an effort to lay waste the major food source of those countries. These sources said the bugs multiply rapidly and are hard to control. They cited this alleged form of attack as another "example of British unfairness."

Two days ago a similar charge was made that the British are throwing millions of self-igniting "leaves"—made of phosphorus and gun-cotton—to cause fires in German fields and forests. (The British admitted they were using the "leaves".)

DENIED BY BRITAIN
London, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Authoritative British circles said today there is no truth in a German declaration that British fliers are dropping bags of Colorado potato beetles on German's fields.

Scientists Duplicate Millions of
Years of Nature's Work in 2 Hours

Detroit, Sept. 12.—In less than two hours time, grass, leaves, seaweed, wood, molasses and corn-stalks are changed into coal or oil by a new process announced today from the Carnegie Institute of Technology, Pittsburgh. In two hours these Pittsburgh scientists are doing what takes nature millions of years. Their work is the most dramatic in the long history of artificial production of coal, oil and gasoline. Their grass oils make good grade gasoline.

The report was made to the American Chemical Society by Dr. Ernst Berl, research professor at the institute.

The raw materials are heated, under pressure, with limestone and other similar chemicals. The heat and the pressure abolish time almost literally.

Moreover the scientists, waiting to open the baking retorts, can have either coal or oil, as they

DRAFT MEASURE
LIKELY TO BE ACCEPTED SOON

Action by Both Houses Is Expected Before the Week End

Washington, Sept. 12.—(AP)—Quick enactment of peacetime conscription for men from 21 through 35 was believed near today as a joint senate and house committee met to draft its report on a compromise compulsory military training bill.

The report will go to both houses for final action, and the congressional consensus was that it would be promptly accepted—perhaps before the week-end.

Scuttling a house provision for a 60-day delay in the draft, and compromising differences on the vital question of age limits, the six senators and five house members reached an agreement last night on a common version of the legislation which both branches of congress previously approved in different forms.

The senate had fixed the age bracket at from 21 through 30, the house from 21 through 44. At the suggestion of Senator Thomas (D-Utah) the conferees made the maximum age 35.

Thus, when and if the bill finally becomes law, approximately 16,500,000 men will be called upon to register for service. When the physically unfit, those with dependents and those who hold essential jobs in industry or agriculture are weeded out, army officials estimated 5,000,000 men would be eligible for a year's intensive training.

May Call Any Classes
President Roosevelt may call these, it was explained, in any age classes the army desires. Registration of the 16,500,000 is expected to take place within 15 days after congress makes funds available and the first contingent of 75,000 probably would be inducted into service shortly after October 15.

The measure approved by the conferees after two days of work provided also for commandeering industry if that should become necessary in a national crisis. Revising a house provision, the conferees provided in general that the government might take over, on a rental basis, plants where the owner refused to give preference to government orders or refused to manufacture defense materials.

Revised Section
The revised section, however, hedged this power with the restriction that before such drastic action could be taken the president must first find that "public danger is immediate, imminent and impending, and the emergency in the public service is extreme and imperative."

Also, he must find that there was no other similar source of supply. Subsequently, the plant owner would have the right to sue the government if he felt that the compensation paid him was unsatisfactory.

The conferees' action in striking out a house-approved clause to delay conscription for 60 days while attempts were made to fill the army's quota with voluntary enlistments seemed to hold almost the only prospect for controversy when the conference report is submitted to the houses.

Chairman Sheppard (D-Tex) of the conferees said the committee's report would be submitted to the senate during the day. He indicated

Cellulitis

Sioux Falls, S. D., Sept. 12.—(AP)—Plucking her eyebrows cost Lois Hins her life.

The 21-year-old girl, one of triplet sisters from Parkston, S. D., taking nurses' training here, died this morning of cellulitis, ending a 10-day fight by doctors to check the illness. The physicians said cellulitis, an infection between two layers of skin tissue, developed after Miss Hins plucked her eyebrows.

Injuries suffered in a hit-and-run accident in Washington, D. C. April 19 last, today proved fatal to John H. Byers, 68, of 1017 Highland avenue, Dixon, veteran congressional secretary and a former member of the Illinois house of representatives. Byers, secretary to Congressman Leo E. Allen of Galena, 13th Illinois district, was struck near his Washington home, 13th and M streets, N. W., by an unidentified driver, who did not stop, and suffered a fracture of the skull and other injuries. He passed away in a Washington hospital this morning.

The body will be brought to Dixon for burial, arriving here via the Chicago & Northwestern railway, at 1:37 o'clock Saturday afternoon, and will be taken to the Jones funeral home, where funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon.

Teacher, Reporter
Mr. Byers, who before he entered his political career was superintendent of the old Lincoln grade school in Sterling and later a reporter for the Dixon Evening Telegraph, was born in Lancaster, Pa., Jan. 29, 1872, the son of David and Margaret Byers, who moved westward in his childhood. While a resident of Sterling Mr. Byers married Miss Agnes Weaver of that city. He is survived by his widow; four daughters, Mrs. Chester (Alice) Olson of Indianapolis, Mrs. Orville (Grace) Smith, Mrs. Louis (Evelyn) Salzman and Mrs. Thomas (Helen) Erwin of Dixon; three sons, Paul of California, John, Jr. of Chicago and Russell of Dixon; nine grandchildren; his father, David Byers, 93, who makes his home with a daughter, Mrs. Fred Wade, route 2, Dixon; two brothers, Harry of Marengo and Frank of Grand Rapids, Mich., and one sister, Mrs. Wade. Wine from Milk

New York, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The prospect that the dairy industry may get into the wine business and thus find a use for millions of pounds of whey left from cheese manufacture, which now goes to waste, was disclosed today by National Dairy Products Corp.

Sherry and sauterne type wines have thus far been made. The process was discovered by accident in the company's Baltimore laboratories and experimentation was carried out by Dr. E. C. McCollum and Dr. Robert P. Myers of the staff.

The new wine contains 15 per cent of alcohol by volume. With the addition of yeast and sugar, a quart of whey will make a quart of wine. Thomas H. McInerney, president of National Dairy products, declined to make any prediction on commercial possibilities of the wine. The company for some time, he said, has sought for new applications for milk products.

Flaming Body of Man Is Found In
Waukegan Today

Waukegan, Ill., Sept. 12.—(AP)—The body of an unidentified man, set afire from gasoline-soaked clothing, was found at the foot of a hill in a Waukegan cemetery this morning by a laborer on his way to work.

The laborer told Police Chief William B. Blaylock that as he passed the graveyard he observed what appeared to be a blazing pile of wood. A closer view, however, disclosed the true nature of the burning object.

Chief Blaylock said that doubtless the man was either killed or stunned and placed on a pile of clothing which was drenched with oil and ignited. The body, he added, had rolled down the slope from the crest of the hill. As nearly as authorities could determine, the victim was about 35 years old.

The presence of a transient about the cemetery this morning was reported to the police, who pursued their investigations without a clue. Coroner John L. Taylor continued the inquest indefinitely.

State police reported to their headquarters at Trenton that they saw "eight or ten bodies hauled out of the plant ruins."

Scores of ambulances and police cars rushed the injured to hospitals in Dover, Newton and Morristown, Newark and Montclair.

The Dover hospital was filled to capacity with the first injured. The fires handicapped rescue efforts and prevented police and

J. W. Miller of Sterling, driving a new sedan, with Thomas Conlon, commissioner of streets of Sterling as a passenger, escaped injury in an automobile collision yesterday afternoon one mile south of the city at the intersection of the Pump Factory and Bloody Gulch roads. Olof Benson, living south of Dixon, was returning home and in reporting the incident to the police, stated that the Sterling car stopped after entering the intersection of the two roads.

Benson stated that he attempted to drive back of the Sterling car, expecting that it would continue westward, but that his machine skidded in loose gravel and crashed into the Sterling car. Benson summoned a deputy from the sheriff's office to investigate the accident and reported at the police station. None of the occupants was injured but both cars sustained some damage.

RAF Repells Nazi
Raiders: Berlin
Feels Air Raids

The War Today!

By DEWITT MACKENZIE

Should Herr Hitler make good his threat to dump ten thousand airplane load of bombs on London every twenty four hours, and follow this rain of death by the invasion he has prepared, we probably shall be able to pick the ultimate winner of the war before many days have passed.

On the eve of this proposed mass killing and destruction from the air there are so many vital factors in doubt that he would be a foolhardy man who tried to predict the outcome, despite the Nazi superiority of military power.

However, this war is nobody's pigeon yet.

Obviously the Germans might achieve a quick knockout. On the other hand, if the British can take the punishment which is bound to come, and throw back the perhaps the most powerful attack of history, then they can look with a considerable degree of confidence towards the respite that the bad weather should bring by the end of this month.

Many observers believe that Hitler is going to win or lose this war within the immediate future.

British Premier Churchill yesterday in warning his people of the storm to come spoke a great truth in mild words when he said that for the Nazis to attempt invasion without gaining mastery of the air (which they have been unable to achieve thus far), would be "a very hazardous undertaking."

One of Hitler's reasons for intensifying his aerial attack on London is to pave the way for the landing of a host of soldiers from what safely may be described as the most perfectly trained army ever sent into action. To my mind invasion is essential for a quick Nazi victory, as it is hard to believe that the Germans could dictate to England from the air alone.

The increased bombing has other purposes, of course. In part it is directed at destruction of the important industries about the metropolis, the dislocation of the nation's communications by crippling this great rail center, the demolition of docks and harbor facilities, and disorganization of governmental direction.

But Hitler's main objective is the morale of the civilian population. If he can smash that he will make a mighty stride towards victory.

All indications are that the British are facing with determination this test which means life or death to their empire, and will mean the end of life for many individuals. No one who heard or read that talk of Churchill's yesterday could fail to sense the sturdiness of England's spirit.

The next week "must be regarded as a very important one for us in our history," Churchill said quietly. No bluster, no shouting—just a plain statement that this battle, upon which hangs the fate of the biggest empire of all time, is "a very important one."

But with all this, one must recognize that there is a point beyond which sheer bravery fails to function. There may come a time when, under such hellish punishment as mass bombing involves, body and mind cannot stand the shock. No amount of courage can overcome this. This battle isn't going to turn on British bravery. Everybody knows their courage is supreme, and the Germans have complicated them on it in this war. The outcome will depend in no small degree on how much more those raw and bleeding civilian nerves can stand without robbing the people of will power.

Axis Leaders Escape

way station, in central Berlin, and the big Tempelhof airdrome.

Hitler's high command admitted 14 persons were killed, 41 injured and many fires started in the three cities attacked.

London's weary millions underwent their fifth straight dusk-to-dawn attacks, but the populace found a warning note of comfort in the steady slam of "archies"—anti-aircraft guns—setting up a screen of fire to blast the raiders.

New Defense Tactics

The new London defense tactics of throwing up a rapid fire "cat-o-nine-tails" barrage, instead of sniping singly at individual planes, was officially credited with having greatly impeded the German assault.

Only 20 bombs exploded in central London, in contrast to many hundreds in previous night raids, but "suicide squads" combed the capital in search of delayed-action explosives such as blasted a corner of Buckingham palace on Tuesday 48 hours after it fell from the skies. The time bombs sometimes dig a crater 20 feet deep in the ground. The "suicide squads" pack the crater with earth and sandbags and the danger zone is roped off until after the explosion.

One of the delayed action missiles was discovered near historic old St. Paul's cathedral, just off Fleet street's "newspaper row" which appears to have become a favorite target of German airmen.

The Associated Press building between Fleet street and the Thames has been shaken repeatedly. Although the destructive effect of the "Archies' chorus" was not immediately known, at least there was no sign of the Nazis' threatened "10,000 plane-loads of bombs daily," falling on the London area.

Record of Dixon's Nursery School Is Well Worth While

It must be a big job to take a constantly-shifting group of 32 two-to-four-year-olds and assume responsibility for equipping them with the physical, mental and social fundamentals which will go far toward assuring them of a wholesome place in community life. Sounds almost fantastic, but that is the accomplishment of which Dixon's Nursery school may boast.

ing from the mending of worn shoes to the planning of birthday parties and regular administration of health-giving cod liver oil—are made possible by the Works Progress Administration, a corps of efficient supervisors, and scores of generous-hearted townspeople.

Mrs. Dorothy Frost is in charge of the department, and is assisted by the Misses Madelyn Huggins and Zita Bradley. Mrs. Josette Imfeld prepares the food for the children Mrs. Leonard Read has been laundress and; James Gallagher, the janitor. Present sponsors include Mrs. Charles Lesage, A. H. Lancaster, D. H. Spencer, Sherwood Dixon, and George Shaw.

The board of education provided the nursery room and supplies, light, water, heat, gas and some equipment. Food is donated by merchants, clubs and individuals. Donations of cash and supplies have been made by the Goodfellow club, the Lions club, Junior Chamber of Commerce, American Legion Auxiliary, G. A. R. Ladies,

Fidelity Life Insurance company, the Woman's Relief corps, Dixon Woman's club whose members have furnished a Christmas dinner and gifts for the past two years. The Goodfellows, Kline's department store, Illinois Northern Utilities company, Home Lumber company, and many individuals.

Garden Contributed
The Misses Lillian and Annette Gonnemann have contributed a garden plot, and mothers of the children have provided seeds. Last season, about 600 quarts of fruits and vegetables were canned from the garden and other donations of produce. Further success of the program has been subscribed to by a tag day, a rug sale, and an ice cream social.

The school opens at 8:30 a. m. with personal inspection and a cod liver oil "parade." From 9 to 10 o'clock, a carefully-supervised play period is enjoyed, and except during inclement weather, these periods are held out of doors. Each child receives fruit juice at 10 o'clock, and afterward, a quiet period is set aside for junior art projects with crayons and modeling clay.

At 10:45, the children wash for luncheon, and at 11:15, they are given a small rug on which they rest and relax for 15 minutes before luncheon at 11:30. At 12:30, small cots are provided for rest and napping until 2:30, when the class is dismissed.

A record is kept of birthday anniversaries, and as a result, each child experiences the pleasure of a birthday cake. Opportunity for musical expression in songs and rhythm is provided in the daily schedule, and books of poems, pictures, finger plays and stories are available at all times.

Dixon physicians and dentists contribute their services to correct physical and dental defects. One little girl who was unable to walk or talk when she entered the school is now able to do both. Removal of infected tonsils brought relief for another child who was seriously handicapped, and in another instance, a little girl's life is believed to have been saved by prompt diagnosis of a rapidly-developing case of pneumonia.

Mrs. Marion Church, public school nurse, has been of great assistance in promoting success of the project in Dixon, making weekly visits. Under her supervision and with parental consent, the children have received immunization from diphtheria and smallpox which is reported to have been 100 per cent successful.

Supervisor's Visits
Miss Gladys Pantof of Rockford, supervisor, visits the school every two weeks to observe the routine and make corrections when necessary. Mothers of the children enjoy the privileges of an organization known as the Mother's club, their program including sewing projects, food demonstrations, and talks on diseases and discipline. Instruction in both sewing and knitting is given.

All in all, it would seem that its Nursery school is one organization which warrants Dixon's wholehearted support. Mrs. Frost an-

Predicts U. S. Will Be in War in 60 Days If Roosevelt is Returned

Flora, Ill., Sept. 12—(AP)—President Roosevelt "has created a war hysteria that is leading us directly down the path to war", Rep. Hamilton Fish (R-N.Y.) declared at a Republican rally at the Clay county fair.

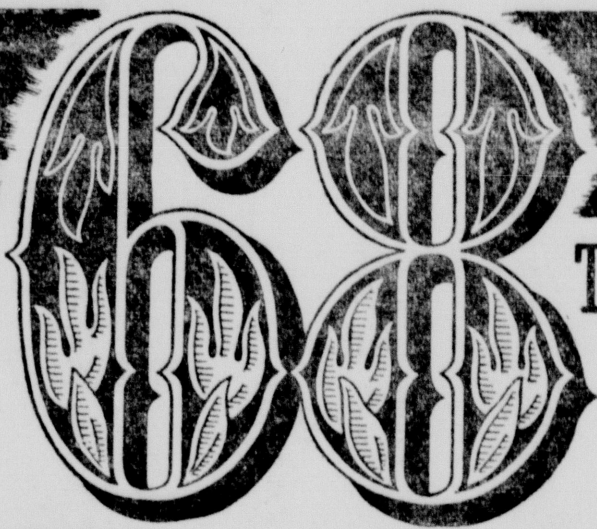

"If Roosevelt is re-elected, this country will be in war within 60 days", he predicted yesterday.

In the current campaign, Fish asserted, there are four issues: 1, Employment at home; 2, "Maintenance of free American institutions against the new deal trend towards dictatorships"; 3, National defense, and 4, Keeping America out of foreign wars unless attacked or the Monroe Doctrine is violated.

"On all these major issues I believe that Wendell Willkie is to be preferred over President Roosevelt", he said.

GEORGE WASHINGTON SAID:

"Excessive partiality for one foreign nation and excessive dislike of another cause those whom they actuate to see danger only on one side, and serve to veil and even second the arts of influence on the other. Real patriots who may resist the intrigues of the favorite are liable to become suspected and condemned while its tools and dupes usurp the applause and confidence of the people to surrender their interests." From the Farmwell Address.

Willkie's Radio Voice

Critics of Wendell Willkie have been finding fault with his radio personality. Those who are doing to vote for the G. O. P. nominee, however, seem willing to forgive whatever Mr. Willkie lacks in the way of radio appeal, if he will fulfill their hopes otherwise.

Mr. Willkie's chief radio broadcast since he was nominated was delivered at Elwood on a day when the thermometer registered 101 in the shade—and Mr. Willkie stood in the sun. He not only stood in the sun, but he faced it at 3 in the afternoon. He was wearing what appeared to be a blue wool suit.
Perhaps it was a lightweight suit, but the candidate looked uncomfortable enough even to please his critics. Sunshine glared down on his manuscript so that he had to squint in order to make out the words. Perhaps even William Jennings Bryan couldn't have made an oratorical hit under the Elwood circumstances.

However, office seekers are not elected for their oratorical ability, although eloquence may help a statesman to influence the public. Mr. Bryan was without a peer as a platform speaker, but he failed
of election on more than one occasion. Bob Ingersoll never attained status as a politician, but he was unsurpassed as an orator. Some of the greatest orators never achieved their ambitions politically.
Abraham Lincoln was unimpressive while speaking,
but many of his speeches and letters are masterpieces of American literature.

There are certain things the next president will want to do. Whether that president is Willkie or Roosevelt, oratorical ability will have little effect upon what needs to be done. Dealings will have to be carried on with statesmen of other countries, who are not affected a whit by oratory. Business men

• SERIAL STORY

THIS COULD BE YOUR STORY
BY MARGUERITE GAHAGAN

All characters, organizations
and incidents of this serial are entirely fictitious.

YESTERDAY: Sue Mary recalls
her hours, exciting day, meeting
Nick and the girls, talking to interesting new people. They had seemed, only mildly interested
when she told them that the firm
she works for handled government contracts. But she had not seen Natalie and Vera whispering behind her. Nick invites her to a studio party.

ADVENTURE FOR SUE MARY

CHAPTER IV

AND so the dream had continued. Sue Mary knew she should go to bed, stop reliving
the time that had passed so swiftly, and yet she hesitated; going over those hours after she had left the art exhibit for Natalie's studio party.

She seemed accepted completely. No one made her feel a stranger. No one seemed to think it odd that she merely sat and listened; listened and stared at the crowded room that Natalie called her studio. Walls covered with pictures: oils, watercolors,
lithographs; easels and canvas
stacked in corners; brushes in tall
jars; books stacked under tables,
and records and magazines spilling from a cabinet, beside the low couch that served as a bed.

It was all confused, rather fascinating and yet annoying to one who, like Sue Mary, had a passion for cleanliness and order.
Even while her eyes widened in wonder and she burst into laughter at the sight of the red and green tin tub in the old-fashioned bathroom, she had an almost overpowering desire to pick up a bar
of soap and scour the grimy gray
rings away from the sides.

Careless, casual, a take-what-life-gives attitude. And the people fitted the picture so completely.

They were nearly all young;
many with the colorful personalities that went with their foreign-sounding names. And yet there had been some who reminded Sue Mary of the boys and girls with whom she had gone to school.

Only they all talked as though driven by an urge to remake the world. Right now they were considering a mass meeting to be staged by the Youth Progress
group.

"We mean to have our own can-

and manufacturers will be dealing with the president or his aides, and oratory has no place in a business conference. Admirals and generals will be more conspicuous in government affairs, and these gentlemen neither give nor take perorations. Fine speaking ability has not balanced the budget nor reduced spending, nor has it given jobs to the unemployed,
whose numbers are estimated at from 8 to 12½ millions.

Music Is Cheaper

Everybody is interested, in these days of emotion, in things that make life more enjoyable. One such development is the reduction in prices announced by several makers of phonograph records. These price cuts, for some makes and styles of records, are as much as 50 per cent. It is now possible to buy two records for the price of one, or three for the price of two.

No one doubts the entertainment value of radio,
but that facility has had one inherent weakness.
We can get music easily by a twist of the dial or touch of the button, but it has been almost as rare
as a perfect bridge hand to twist the dial and get
just the selection we want at the time we desire it.

Some years ago we had recourse only to the old-style phonograph for "canned" music, but after radio speakers were improved these phonographs sounded weak and watery in comparison. Radio principles were applied to phonographs and tones were improved. Now some radio manufacturers are incorporating phonograph mechanism in their receiving sets. It is possible even to make your own records, with some sets it works this way. You hear that John Charles Thomas is going to broadcast a program. You tune to the proper station, insert your blank record, twist the proper gadgets and touch the right buttons, and presently you have a record of a song by Mr. Thomas.

But for the old standby records, of course, we can now go to the music store and buy them—at reduced prices. We need music for relaxation and entertainment. We need it for dancing—or for inspiration. Youngsters of today have exceptional opportunities denied to their parents.

Conscription Here—And There

One of the most ubiquitous, and certainly the most vocal, opponents of conscription in the United States is the Communist party.

And this is odd, for Russia, to whom these people owe at least spiritual allegiance, has just called up its youth of 18, 19, and 20 for compulsory army service.

Conscription, then, is fine for the "socialist fatherland", but the United States must have no part of it.

This is very puzzling to those who are inexistent in Communist dialectic. To an outsider it looks as though these people were more concerned that Russia should win any war in which it might become involved, but less concerned about how America
might fare in a similar crisis.

America will be defended no less resolutely, by means democratically decided upon, perhaps even by such means as the Communists adopt on the home grounds, reject here.

A few nights later, when she had a date with Joe, she found it difficult to explain that day.
"It was the first free one I've had that didn't nearly bore me to death," she told him. "These people are interesting people, Joe.
Not just the dull kind that spend
the evening at someone's house
playing bridge, or going to a neighborhood movie."

And they talk about so many things: about new plays, and pictures, and politics and labor. Why, they read all the way through their newspapers. Not just the big story on the front page, and the comics and society sheets. And they read papers I never heard of. Papers about working people, and social problems, and—stuff."

Yes, it had been a bit difficult to put in words the feelings she had experienced. Joe had looked a bit dazed and then troubled,
and that hadn't helped her.

He shook his head. "Crack-pots," he had muttered. "There were some like that in college.
Always waving a flag for some cause or other. Campus trouble-makers who wore dirty shirts and yelled a lot, but never really worked. I don't like 'em."

"Anyway, I don't see why you want to bother your head about such stuff. You've got a good job,
and you've—well, you've got me.
We have fun, don't we?"

They might have quarreled, because his attitude made Sue Mary feel that he didn't think her capable of serious thinking. Yet his obvious desire to do things for her brought a warmth into her heart. His bigness, and his helplessness when he tried to put his emotion into words always did that to her.

And when, before going to the Italian restaurant for the spaghetti special, he shoved her into a florist's shop and bought a gardenia to pin on her soft fur collar,
she had to swallow hard to keep
from choking on the words of thanks.

In the darkened movie, with Joe's big, hard shoulder against hers, and his hand closed over her own, life seemed very complete. Perhaps, in not too long a time, they could get married.
Maybe that was all that mattered, anyway. A home with someone you loved. Security and happiness together.

Crusades and political campaigns, art exhibits and the studio crowd were far removed from them. They belonged to a strange world whose fringes she had merely brushed.

BEHIND
THE NEWS
By PAUL MALLON

(Distributed by King Features

whole or in part strictly prohibited.)

Washington, Sept. 12.—As long as the flashes from London tell of long night and short day raids,
you may feel reasonably sure the British are not near the end. The Goering plan of throwing his waves of bombers in nine-hour
after dark assaults, while curtailing
his day-time raids to sporadic forays is a tell-tale disclosure to the initiated that the British have not yet been conquered in the air.

If Goering starts nine-hour day raids, then watch out. It may well mean British air resistance is broken.

Every stone of London could be crumbled to dust without necessarily causing defeat. The reality vital point involved is whether Churchill can keep enough fighting planes on hand to thwart the beaching of German boats on British shores. Britain will not fail until her army is beaten. It cannot be beaten by civic destruction.

This at any rate has been the preponderant view of our military authorities who have been sitting on the edge of their chairs watching the incoming dispatches. It is true there is another school among them. Some of our air officers have faith in the ability of the air arm alone to break the backbone morale of an enemy. They cite Warsaw and Rotterdam, but in both cases the cities were actually conquered by an army at their gates. In both cases also the cities were the last defended battles of retreating armies. The situation of London is different.

Some three million undefeated soldiers are under arms around the island. Their ports are open to all the food producing nations of the world, and they have the money to buy and the ships to carry.

The air-minded school holds that destruction of water mains, gas supply, electrical energy, would,
when added to the destruction of docking facilities, cause resistless
civilian pressure upon the government for a negotiated peace. They expected the constantly increasing severity of destruction would cause ousting of the Churchill government and establishment of a peace party in control. (Everyone agrees Britain will never give in as long as Churchill is at the top.)

This no doubt reflects Hitler's aim and he has proven himself in the past surprisingly correct in his unique military theories.

But the prevailing opinion from the beginning of the bombing here
has been that Hitler cannot win
without defeating the army, cannot defeat the army without invasion, cannot invade until he gets air superiority. And the experience of London is only a great dramatic sideshow which cannot be decisive.

The next week or ten days should tell the tale.

The Republican high command has not paid as much attention to the let-down in the Willkie campaign as has the press. Those who have been to the Willkie camp in Rushville report that the candidate deliberately planned to ease down the tempo in preparation for the final drive.

The rhythm has been carefully
arranged for the future to lead up gradually to a high pitch the last two weeks before election day.
The leaders seem fairly well pleased with this new way of doing things, remembering that the London campaign had its letdown
after October 1.

Critical Republican congressmen
have been quieted also by the latest private advice to improvement in Republican organization.
Willkie has been spending every free moment for weeks consulting Republican organization specialists. Only complaints now seem to come from business men in experienced in politics who are regretting that the Republican nominee
did not keep the offensive.

Roosevelt has been in the switches for days on the new labor board chairman. He held up the reappointment of Madden on advice from his Senate leaders that the nomination could not be confirmed. Also Madden does not have the personal approval of A.
P. of L. directors, who must be kept pleased with an election in the offing.

Scouting about for someone else
who was sufficiently obscure to satisfy both A. P. of L. and CIO, and yet get past the Senate, he first hit upon a 67-year-old college professor who was inclined to turn it down because of his years.
Then came another poll of the Senate by Senator Thomas of Utah indicating Madden might be nushed through under strong White House pressure, although an awkward fight could not be avoided.
All through this the White House
has been afraid Willkie would get hold of the embarrassing situation and make capital of it.

When asked what the President would do a few days back one of his leading advisers replied:
"Mr. Roosevelt seems to be fresh out of Harvard lawyers."

WENDELL
WILLKIE
Says:

"Farming, business and industry
have made this country great—not government. We do not want re-

America's Strength

lief, we want jobs. The next administration must restore once again the confidence of the people
in their own enterprises."

Zupke Wastes
No Time as He Drives Illini

Chicago, Sept. 12.—(AP)—The fact that Coach Robert Zupke
wastes little time getting his Illinois gridders down to the real business of football may or may not account for frequent surprises
the Illini have dealt Big Ten foes
in Zupke's 27 year tenure.

Perennially Zup has called for contact work in a hurry. So it was no surprise to the sometimes surprising Illini that a double dose
of scrimmage was ordered yesterday, the second day of practice.
Purdue had one scrimmage yesterday and Minnesota a modified version. Wisconsin also verged on it and Francis Schmidt at Ohio State issued his first call for today. But at Illinois, four teams went through an hour of scrimmage in the morning yesterday
and had another round in the afternoon.

Zupke, who started his 28th
year at Illinois this season, made a number of shifts, including transfer of Laverne Astroth to quarterback, Jimmy Smith, number one running threat, was sidelined because of a twisted knee received opening day.

Shifts also were in evidence at Wisconsin. Coach Harry Stuhldreher, who sent Quarterback
Fred Gage to guard Tuesday, moved Johnny Tennant from left half to quarterback yesterday.

Setback for Iowa

Iowa got a setback when Jens
Norgaard, veteran end, gave up
football in favor of aviation.
Northwestern was more fortunate.
A leg ailment to captain and Quarterback Dick Richards was diagnosed as only minor.

At Michigan, Paul Kroner reported for practice after being out of the lineup most of last season with a knee injury. However, Coach Fritz Crisler said he was not counting on Kroner, the Wolverines' leading scorer in 1938.
His chances of a successful comeback were "1,000 to 1". Crisler averred.

Blocking, a weakness in Indiana's play last year, received major attention at the Hoosier campaign, where Coach Bo McMillin had Mickey McGuire, junior quarterback, and two sophomores throwing plenty of passes along with the No. 1 hurler, Hal Hursh.

John Petty, fullback, handicapped by injuries last season, was the standout in the scrimmage at Purdue.

BY LOUIS ADAMIC
Author of "The Native's Return,"
"My America," "From Many Lands," etc.

In the current world crisis, the United States will scarcely be worth defending as a place and a sovereign state unless we as a people and a government also determine to do our utmost, immediately and in the long run, to keep alive and enhance the American ideal.

To me the United States is more an idea than anything else.
And by the American idea I mean
the body of ideals and practices
with which different people have labored variously: democracy, equality, general welfare, liberty, the pursuit of happiness, the American Dream, the Promise of America, the American Way.

I mean the thoughts, emotions
and deeds of people on this continent that run like a clear stream
through our history from Pym-outh Rock to Ellis Island, and that aimed for a better life than seemed possible anywhere else on earth.

I mean the Mayflower Concordance, the Declaration of Independence, the Gettysburg Address, and the tears in the eyes of millions of immigrants from more than a score of countries during the last 50 years, as they passed the Statue of Liberty on whose pedestal are struck these words:

Give me your tired, your poor,
The wretched refuse of your teeming shore.
Your huddled masses yearning to breathe free.

Send these, the homeless, the
tempest-tost to me:
I lift my lamp beside the golden
door.

There will be danger, I fear, in this period of stress that Americanism will be defined and interpreted too narrowly by the elements in our population which by virtue of their numbers and priority largely dominate the life of the United States.

The danger will be that the idea
again, as it was during the first of Americanism will become World War, too insistently nationalistic from the viewpoint of the no-longer-true idea that the United States is preponderantly
an extension of the British Isles
and the Anglo-Saxon tradition.

Such nationalistic Anglo-Ameri-
canism will not be all-inclusive.
It will leave out tens of millions of immigrants and their American born sons and daughters who are not of Anglo-Saxon strain, but who come or stem from central Europe, Scandinavia, Italy, Poland, the Balkans, the Near East, Mexico, and Africa. And leaving them out, it is apt to weaken
their current eagerness to add
their energies to the defense effort.

Americanism must be stated or re-stated so it will be all-inclusive, as something that is the monopoly of no one strain in this country, but a happy concentration of some of the best aspirations and tendencies of humanity
at its best nearly everywhere at one time or another.

Americanism, as I see it, is a movement away from primitive
racism, fear and nationalism,
herd instincts and mentalities
and superiority and snobbery; a movement toward freedom, creative-ness, a universal or pan-human culture.

A comparison of the two Americas of today is made by Mary Roberts Rinehart in the next article of this series on "Our Country."

Batavia Policeman, 81, Believed Oldest in U. S.

Batavia, Ill., Sept. 12.—(AP)— Believed to be the oldest policeman
in the nation, August Hendrickson, for 20 years a member of the force here, today celebrated his 81st birthday.

Born in Sweden, the family came to the United States when August was 19. Later they lived in Chicago until after the great fire and then moved to Batavia.

Hendrickson is a favorite with the children on his beat, and the district has had no crime recently.
Hendrickson, an excellent pistol
shot, never has had to fire his pistol on the job, and makes few arrests.

"I believe the best policeman is

Former Lee County Women Travel and Present Lectures

Lee county friends of Miss Juana McComb of Amboy and Miss Hermione Vincent of Sublette will be interested in the following feature story which appeared recently in the magazine section of the Sunday World Herald of Omaha, Nebr.:

A North Platte girl who learned to imitate the quail when she was five years old, has developed her hobby of nature and photography to make her expenses in touring 350,000 miles during the past seven years. The girl is Miss Juana McComb, who with Miss Hermione Vincent of Sublette, Ill., retired school superintendent, travels nearly 50,000 miles annually. Each year, she gives illustrated lectures in as many as 300 schools within an eight-month period.

Miss McComb now can imitate the calls of 35 of the best-known song birds, as well as some four or five animals.

Miss McComb spent two years as a guide in the Black Hills until offered the opportunity to go to Chicago for a number of lectures. Then she received an offer to work under the bookings of a national school organization.

Today, she and Miss Vincent do their own bookings and have their hands full. In addition to her lectures, she makes transcriptions for radio and has appeared on several of the major stations of the nation.

Her first broadcast by radio, which she terms her "howling" success was made over KOA at Denver. One day while at the studio, she was asked if she could howl like a coyote; she proved she could.

"During the presentation of the western play," she says, "I hung my head out a window and howled like they told me to. They gave me $5 a howl, and that was my first radio broadcast."

Since starting to lecture, Miss McComb has traveled in 38 states and Canada. Last March, she took a month's tour through the jungles of Yucatan. She has taken thousands of feet of colored film which she makes a part of her lectures.

In Yucatan, she acquired a rare black spider monkey Titina, which now accompanies the two everywhere. The other member of the party is Crackers, a non-descript dog they picked up in Georgia to keep it from starving to death.

It was in Yucatan that she had one of her most memorable experiences—photographing the Yucatan rain god near Itz Chichen. Another thrill was being swung to the top of a 100-foot tree in Florida to photograph an eagle's nest in an adjoining tree. The pictures were widely published.

FANFARE

By DON DANIELSON

HIGH BOWLERS

Joe Miller retained his spot as leading bowler of the City league Tuesday night and increased his average one pin from 182 to 183. His high game increased from 197 to 201. Flanagan moved into second place with three games and an average of 183. Tilton crashed the list of eight high for third place with an average of 176, and F. Smith was a newcomer with 175. Schrader dropped to sixth place followed by Poole, Ridlbauer and McClanahan.

BASEBALL WINDUP

Amboy's Illinois State baseball nine will end the 1940 season with a doubleheader on the West Brooklyn field Sunday afternoon. If the Amboy team is successful in winning both games the club would finish in third place in the league. Lee will be the opponent in the opening game and West Brooklyn will furnish the nightcap competition.

TICKETS STILL AVAILABLE

The nearness of the football season has brought a last-minute rush for season tickets, promising one of the largest throngs tomorrow night to attend a game here. Tickets may still be purchased at the Dixon Evening Telegraph, the Candy Box, Isador Eichler's, Hill Brothers and from any member of the committee. Purchase now saves the fan considerable and is certainly a wise investment.

TATTLE TALE

Added to the report of the Barriaga's golf debut comes the report that included in the "fourstone" were Fred Hofmann, Milton Gleason and Dick Joslyn. Chet and Joslyn began as members of the gallery until their heckling drove the others to offer them the clubs to see what they could do. On the ninth hole Joslyn is reported to have taken two swings at the ball—and censorship puts the kibosh on a report of the results.

IN BADGERS' CAMP

What might be considered a first string lineup at this early date, ran through signals on one eleven at the University of Wisconsin as Coach Harry Stuhldreher's streamlined 1940 edition of the Badgers began practice. Included in the lineup was Don Miller of Dixon at halfback. Miller is a junior at the university this year and after two seasons of outstanding work as a reserve, is expected to crash the big time this year.

TO FREEPORT HORSE SHOW

Several from Dixon and vicinity will attend the second annual program of the Freeport Horse Show association in Taylor park in that city Saturday and Sunday of this week. The show will start promptly at 1 o'clock of each day. Eleven classes will be shown and judged Saturday with 14 classes on Sunday afternoon, after which trophies will be presented to the winners.

DEKALB SAYS—

From the home of the DeKalb Barbs, 1939 North Central conference football champions, comes the scribe's statement: "If the Dixon line develops speed and power, there is every reason to believe that Dixon will stand close to the top of the standings for the entire season and barring upsets which most frequently occur in football, Dixon is the team to beat for the title."

Detroit Tigers Claw Their Way Back To Top of Loop by Trimming Red Sox

By JUDSON BAILEY

Associated Press Sports Writer
The hysterical finish of the American League is being compared with the customary struggle of the National League, but it isn't the same.

There's no crackup in the wild, breath-taking battle that's going on now in the junior circuit, which never has known anything like this in its 40-year history.

For a week, three strong clubs have been grappling for first place, always within a couple of games or less of each other, and today the whole mess is just as unfaithful as it has been for days.

The Detroit Tigers clawed their way back to the top yesterday by overpowering the Boston Red Sox, 11-7, while the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees divided a doubleheader.

How They Stand

Actually, the three tremendous tussles left the standing in the form they were in Tuesday:

Club	W	L	Pct.	GB	TR
Detroit	78	58	.574	—	18
Cleveland	77	58	.570	1/2	19
New York	76	58	.567	1	20
Boston	73	63	.537	5	25

Today, Detroit defends its lead against the World Champion Yankees in the first of a three-game series, while the Red Sox and Indians open a similar set in Cleveland. Something is bound to come out of these games, because no one has figured out a satisfactory way to divide three games.

It looked for awhile yesterday as though the Yankee parade were about to win the prize right away. Rookie Ernie Bonham beat Bob Feller, 3-1, in a desperate pitching duel, each giving five hits. It was the fifth straight win for Bonham, who didn't let a man get to first after the third inning.

An idea of the kind of pitching he has been doing for the Yanks can be gained from the fact he hasn't walked a single batter in the last three games and hasn't allowed more than eight hits in the last five.

Two Runs in First Inning
The Yanks banged out two runs in the first inning of the nightcap, but the pentup Indians routed Red Ruffing with five runs in the third and won 5-3, when darkness halted play in the sixth.

Detroit had the kind of a ding-dong game you would expect when the Tigers and Red Sox collide. There were 32 hits off eight pitchers, and the lead teetered until Hank Greenberg hit his 31st homer with one on in the last of the fifth.

The Chicago White Sox caught up with Dutch Leonard, who had hand-cuffed them five times, and whipped the Washington Senators, 7-4, with a 14-hit assault led by Joe Kuhel.

Elden Auken and George Caster put on a pitching performance rivaling that of Feller and Bonham, each allowing five hits, but the St. Louis Browns' hits included a homer, two triples and a double, and they shutout the Philadelphia Athletics, 3-0.

Reds Increase Lead
The Cincinnati Reds increased their lead in the National League to nine full games by sweeping a doubleheader from the Boston Bees, 8-0 and 3-1, while the Brooklyn Dodgers were losing a pair to the Chicago Cubs, 8-5 and 3-2.

Bucky Walters pitched four-hit ball in the opener, and Paul Derringer scattered six in the nightcap. It was the 19th victory for each.

Dizzy Dean stalked back into the National League by hurling six-hit ball for the Cubs' second triumph over the Dodgers. But his sidearm stuff looked about the same as that which he used last spring before going to Tulsa in the Texas league to try to cure his arm trouble. He had good control and varying speed, but none of it like his former fast one.

The slugging St. Louis Cardinals gouged the New York Giants twice, 7-4 and 3-2, getting 17 hits in the opener and taking the nightcap on Terry Moore's home run in the ninth inning.

The Pittsburgh Pirates crushed the Phillies, 9-3, with a five-run flurry in the ninth.

CEDAR RAPIDS APPEARS SET TO BREAK JINX IN PLAYOFF

(By The Associated Press)

Cedar Rapids, having snatched its second straight Three Eye League flag on the final day of the race, apparently is out to blast the jinx that has prevented any pennant winner getting beyond the Shaughnessy playoff preliminaries.

Last night the most important part of the blasting was accomplished by Charley Workman, the league's leading home run hitter, as Cedar Rapids won its second in a row over Springfield.

The game was a slugfest match all the way and went 11 innings, the Raiders finally winning, 17 to 15 when workman homered with one on. He had also homered in the first inning with two on base.

KNACKS TURN ON STEAM IN COLD NIGHT VICTORY

Bevilacqua's Homecoming To Be Celebrated Here Sunday P. M.

You have to work to keep warm these nights and with the frost on the Legion stadium at Rockford last night, the Dixon Knacks turned on their own steam and shut out the Lawson Transfer nine, 6 to 0, in a brilliant ball game.

A great share of the credit for the victory goes to Bob Fowe and Louie Bevilacqua who did the mound work for the winners and allowed only six hits and struck out 18. Howe started the game and in four frames he was rapped for three hits and whiffed eight. Bevilacqua, late of the Florida State League, replaced him in the fifth and he also was hit three times while he struck out ten in the five innings.

White of Rockford got the first hit of the ball game, a single in the second inning and advanced to second when Wiley was walked. But there he expired after two were out and Gibson fanned. In the third inning Peterson of the hosts' team sandwiched a double in between three strike outs.

Knacks Break Loose

In the first of the same stanza the Knacks broke loose with five runs on six hits. Carlson led off with a single over second base, went to second and third on a passed ball. Kirkey was out from second to first and Carlson scored on Howe's hit. Howe went to second on Zera's single to left field. Flanagan's base hit advanced Zera and scored Howe. W. Howe singled to score Flanagan after Zera had scored on a passed ball. Miller went to first on a base hit and to second on an error by the catcher. The hit scored W. Howe with the fifth run. Prestegard was out from third to first. Kuhn walked but the side was retired when Reeves was out from second to shortstop.

Bonzi doubled for Rockford in the fourth inning and Cielish got a two-bagger in the fifth. Neither scored. In the sixth inning Delpar led off with a double but the next three batters were struck out by Bevilacqua. Kuhn of Dixon led off with a two-base hit in the first of the sixth but failed to advance.

Prestegard Scores

Prestegard went to second on an error by the third baseman in the first of the eighth, advanced on a passed ball and scored on a fly to right field by Reeves. With two away Kirkey doubled but the side was retired when Bevilacqua was out from second to first.

The Dixon team, champions of the Illinois State league, exhibited the power that gave them the pennant, and clicked in top style last night.

On Sunday afternoon at Reynolds field here, Bevilacqua's homecoming will be celebrated in a game with the Mt. Morris Cardinals.

TIME—Tomorrow night, preliminary game starting at 6:30 p. m. PLACE—Dixon high school's newly lighted athletic field. EVENT—Dedication game with Mt. Morris with program of band music and guest speakers. COACHES—C. B. Lindell (Dixon); Wendall Schrader (Mt. Morris). OFFICIALS—Milton Vaughn, Fred Parker and Ralph Johnson, all of Rockford.

Last winter Wendall Schrader of Mt. Morris met C. B. Lindell of Dixon at a physical education teachers' meeting at the White Pines state park and naturally the two football mentors felt to talking about their 1940 prospects. Feeling that he had a superior outfit for 1940, the Mt. Morris coach expressed the wish that he might meet the Dukes this season.

Since that time the Dixon board of education voted for the erection of lights here and schedule makers looked around for a foe to open the season with a blaze of gridiron glory. Then it was that Coach Schrader's wish came true and tomorrow night he will bring his stalwarts to the local gridiron for the big dedication game with Lindell's Dukes.

A Worthy Foe

Scouts who have witnessed the Mounders in action this year, and one look at the weights of some of the Schrader-men have been enough to convince the Dixon coaching staff that tomorrow's rival will be a rugged foe—one worthy of sending the 1940 season into the record books with bold face type.

Working like Trojans for the past two weeks, the Dukes have been drilling to meet the early season foe with a confidence that there shall be nothing to mar the brilliance of the dedication program. With the advantage of cool weather and a team which took its pre-season training seriously, Coach Lindell has good reason to believe his 1940 team will click.

Dixon Reserves

Besides the probable starting lineup mentioned above, the Dixon coach has a reserve list which includes Potts (147), Tofte (150), Fulmer (152), Travis (157), Thompson (157), Weidman (140) and Padilla (160). Of these there are several whom the coach considers worthy of starting positions if more than eleven men were chosen.

With a backfield of four seniors, the Dukes have a more experienced ball-carrying group this year and in the line the slight weight disadvantage is offset by increased speed and determination.

The hopes established by the practice game with Rochelle Tuesday night will be given the test tomorrow evening and if the Dukes come through to victory as such a foe as Mt. Morris and after so few days of practice, they may be expected to give a worthy account of themselves in the succeeding games.

Preliminary Game

Opening the dedication program tomorrow night will be the freshmen-sophomore game between teams of the "Army" and "Navy." For the probable starting lineup of the "Army" team Coach Lindell has named Carl Schnake, Jr.; Kenneth Cramer, Jr.; S. Pierre, Jr.; John Van Nuy, Jr.; Lloyd Walters, Jr.; Don Edwards, Jr.; Wayne Pierce, Jr.; Don Hamill, Jr.; Floyd Egler or William Richards, Jr.; John Collins, Jr.; and Bryce Hubbard, Jr. For the "Navy" team—Eustace Shaw or G. Popma, Jr.; Bill Evans, Jr.; Bob Hess or Ken Reinhardt, Jr.; Floyd Thompson, Jr.; Dean Kneas, Jr.; Ned Auman, Jr.; Bob Miller, Jr.; John Loftus, Jr.; Robert Joynt or Walter Knack, Jr.; Fred Howard, Jr.; Robert Quihot, Jr.

At 7:30 p. m. the American Legion drum and bugle corps will give an exhibition and a 7:30 the Dixon Municipal band will play. The dedication program will include introduction of distinguished guests, interviewing of spectators and an introduction of the teams. The high school band, directed by Orville Westger, will parade between halves of the major game.

Notable Guests

Included among the notable guests will be Charlie Grimm, radio sports commentator and former manager of the Chicago Cubs, and Rocky Wolfe, sports scribe for the City News Bureau in Chicago and publicity writer for the Chicago Bears. Wolfe will give a play-by-play description of the game over the public address system.

Present Champ Holds His Own In Golf Tourney

By GAYLE TALBOT

Mamaroneck, N. Y., Sept. 12. (AP)—Three former champions and the present titleholder, Marvin (Bud) Ward of Spokane, Wash., still were in there pitching as the surviving 16 went at it again today in the National Amateur golf championship at winged foot club. Two of the ex-champs—Jess Sweetser, '22, and Johnny Fischer, '36—were paired in the first of the day's 28-hole rounds. Willie Turnesa, 1938, winner, also turned back his first two opponents yesterday.

The only highly regarded player missing after the carnage of the first two rounds was Art Doering of Chicago. Ranked in the second group of hot contenders, right braid Ward, Doering failed to get going and was rocked out in the first skirmish by Otto Greiner of Baltimore, 5 and 4.

Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, runner-up twice in three years, still was among those present.

Wilford Wehrle of Chicago, still was around. Also Frank Stafaci of Great Neck, N. Y.; Pat Abbott of Pasadena; Dick Chapman of Winged Foot, tournament medalist; Maurice McCarthy, Jr., Cincinnati Star; George Dawson of Chicago and John Burke of Rye, N. Y., all well known to the national scene.

"Outsiders"

Only the remaining four survivors might be termed "outsiders", and each of them owns a high sectional rating. Tom Sheehan, Jr., of Northville, Mich., last year's medalist; Greiner, W. B. McCullough, Jr., of Abington, Pa., and Harry Haverstick, Jr., of Lancaster, Pa., comprised the quartet that confounded the experts slightly.

McCullough's best victim was Gus Moreland, former Walker cup star, now grown portly, whom he ousted 1 up in the afternoon. He drew Turnesa as his initial opponent today.

The play has run remarkably true to form up to this point. Ward established himself a stronger favorite than ever by shooting the best golf of the day to beat Ellis Knowles, the grandpappy, 6 and 5, and Buddy Haas of New Orleans, 3 and 2. The champ was three under par for 29 holes.

His morning opponent today was Abbott, and surviving that, he faced the winner of the Billows Haverstick match in the afternoon. He gave Billows an easy trimming in last year's final.

Though he fell off somewhat from his great golf of the qualifying rounds, Chapman was only two over par in squelching his first two opponents and rated a favorite over McCarthy in the feature match of today's first round. The winner was to get Stafaci or Burke in the afternoon.

At any rate, there will be only four players left tonight to carry on in tomorrow's 36-hole semifinals.

CHICAGO BEARS PLAY IN BENEFIT EXHIBITION GAME

Water Diversion Compromise Seen In Master's Idea

Chicago, Sept. 12.—(AP)—A proposal calling for seasonal fluctuation of the amount of Lake Michigan water diverted into the Illinois waterway was studied today as a possible compromise of the differences between Illinois and six other states on the issue.

Monte M. Lemann, special master named by the U. S. Supreme Court to conduct a hearing on Illinois' plea for increased diversion, forwarded the proposal yesterday.

"Would it," he asked a witness, "be satisfactory to increase the flow in the summer and reduce it in the winter?"

Replied Dr. Floyd W. Mohlman, director of laboratories for the Chicago sanitary district, "the suggestion is practical if by summer months you mean about nine months. The sludge in the bottom of the waterway is inactive during the winter but putrefaction starts when the water warms in summer."

Part of the waterway is a canal into which the sanitary district dumps sewage and witnesses have complained of disagreeable odors during the summer period.

Illinois petitioned to have the flow increased from 1,500 to 5,000 cubic feet a second until September 31, 1942 when the sanitary district hopes to have completed a sewage treatment and disposal work.

SEASONAL TREATS

Tomatoes Au Gratin

6 medium-sized tomatoes, or
2 cups drained canned tomatoes
1 tablespoon butter
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup grated American cheese
1 cup buttered bread crumbs
½ teaspoon salt
Place tomatoes in buttered baking utensil. Sprinkle with salt and sugar and dot with the butter. Add grated cheese and cover with the buttered crumbs. Bake one-half hour in moderate oven. (May be baked in ramekins.)

Stuffed Tomatoes in Aspic
6 small firm tomatoes
2 cups chicken salad
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
1 teaspoon gelatine, dissolved in 1 teaspoon cold water
Aspic jelly
Peel tomatoes and remove pulp. Sprinkle with salt and let stand inverted for 10 minutes. Fill with chicken salad. Cover tops with mayonnaise which has been mixed with gelatine. Decorate top with sliced sweet pickle or olives. Cover bottom of a pan with aspic jelly mixture, place in ice water and let stand until firm. Arrange tomatoes on jelly, garnish side down. Add more aspic jelly mixture, let stand until firm and continue until all aspic is used. Chill thoroughly, turn on serving dish and garnish with parsley.

Aspic Mixture

4 chicken or beef bouillon cubes
4 tablespoons gelatin
8 tablespoons cold water
4 cups boiling water
4 tablespoons lemon juice
Salt and pepper
Soak gelatin in cold water. Dissolve cubes in hot water, add soaked gelatin, lemon juice, salt and pepper. Strain through cheesecloth.

NEW WAYS WITH APPLES

Baked Apple Ice Cream
1 cup boiled soft custard
1 cup sieved baked apple
1 cup cream, whipped
Powdered sugar (if needed)
Blend ingredients. If not sweet enough, add powdered sugar. Freeze in automatic refrigerator.

Fried Apples and Onions

3 tablespoons shortening
1 pint sliced onions
1 quart sliced apples
1 tablespoon sugar
½ teaspoon salt
Melt shortening in a heavy frying pan. Add apples and onions. Cover and cook slowly until nearly tender. Turn frequently to prevent burning. Remove cover, sprinkle with sugar and salt. Continue cooking until lightly browned.

Sweet Potatoes and Apples

Place alternate layers of sliced cooked sweet potatoes and sliced raw apples in a buttered baking utensil. Sprinkle each layer with brown sugar, dot with butter and add a few grains of salt. Add a small amount of water, or warm milk. Cover and bake until almost tender. Remove cover to brown.

Hot Apple Sandwich

Cover a slice of toasted bread with a thick layer of heavy applesauce. Place two slices of bacon on top of the sauce. Place in hot oven until bacon is crisp. Serve at once.

FIVE-WAY OVEN SETS

Save Fuel and Work
The planning of nutritious oven meals no longer should be hampered by lack of space. Domestic engineers have designed a five-piece oven set of stain-resisting sheet aluminum that exceeds convenient modern refrigerator sets in compactness of design.

Covered tightly, these durable utensils steam; uncovered, they bake and roast. The flat, recessed handles are heat-resisting. Square or rectangular type nest or stack of storage, and fit the refrigerator as neatly as the oven. They encourage multiple oven cooking, which, in turn, encourages fuel economy.

Home economists have worked out a series of menus that use all five utensils. Here is one dinner that can be cooked in a moderate oven 375 degrees F. in exactly one hour, thus saving fuel and kitchen work:

Lamb chops baked with cheese and sour cream; succotash, buttered green beans, banana nut bread, peach betty. The dessert is made this way:

Peach Brown Betty

One-half cup melted butter; 4 cups bread crumbs; 4 cups sliced fresh peaches; ½ cup sugar; ¼ teaspoon nutmeg; ¼ teaspoon salt; ¼ teaspoon cinnamon; 1 teaspoon lemon juice.

Combine butter and bread crumbs. Mix peaches, sugar, nutmeg, salt, cinnamon and lemon juice together. Place alternate layers of buttered crumbs and peaches in buttered loaf pan. Cover and bake 1 hour, uncovering during last 10 minutes of baking.

HOME-MAKING NEWSLETTERS

If candles are used at the dinner table, ivory or extremely pale shades are preferable, unless they are harmonized with some definite color scheme. The candles should be so tall that the light is above the eye level.

Ready for year-round use in closets is a new moth trap that will last for several months. The trap actually is a little sack of paper lined with cotton treated with a substance on which the insect's young like to feed. Naturally, the moth lays her eggs there. The cotton also is impregnated with something that kills the larvae when hatched. The sacks are sold by the dozen and the use of three at a time is recommended for the average size closet.

"Fancy dress" parade for that left-over bread dressing is to serve it in the form of a ring mold, centered with buttered peas, or other vegetables. Re-season the bread mixture by cooking it in butter with diced onion, celery and green pepper, add a little hot water and bind with beaten egg, if desired. Bake in a buttered mold at 350 degrees until the dressing is firm.

Use a can of tomato soup as a convenient and savory sauce for hamburger patties, breaded veal cutlets or chops.

A vegetable juice "bar" in up-town New York City features such combinations as dandelion and pineapple juice, beet, apple and celery. Juice mixtures are varied to suit individual customers.

MR. ROOSEVELT IS TOO BUSY

Mr. Roosevelt's friends must have noted that he hasn't been coming off very well in his interchanges with Mr. Willkie. He won't qualify for more than half of the famous phrase, describing another gay ruler, "who never said a foolish thing and never did a wise one". He is saying foolish things in his replies to the Republican candidate who wants to debate with him.

Raymond Moley, in his "After Seven Years", says that Mr. Roosevelt never wanted to get tangled up with Ogden Mills when he was campaigning eight years ago. Mills was Hoover's secretary of the treasury and Mr. Roosevelt knew that if he gave Mills an opportunity to go after him on financial questions he would be demolished. So he and his ghost writers were careful not to give the secretary of the treasury a chance. Apparently Mr. Roosevelt has the same respect for Mr. Willkie's ability in debate and that is why he is too busy to break a lance with him.

When Mr. Willkie asked Mr. Roosevelt to say whether he favored the provision of the conscription bill which would allow him to seize the industrial plants of the country, he replied that it had been his fixed rule since his inauguration in 1933 not to discuss a matter pending in congress. That was a foolish thing to say. People would wonder what Mr. Roosevelt meant by it. It enabled Mr. Willkie to pick up the record of Mr. Roosevelt's discussion of matters pending in congress and show that it has been his fixed rule to talk and lib. He has made it a practice to go into a stubborn man's district and try to raise his constituents against him if he disagreed.

Mr. Roosevelt's refusal to debate the great issues of the campaign was based upon a pretext which couldn't stand up. He said he was too busy with public affairs to do any campaigning. He isn't too busy to entertain royalty. He wasn't too busy to dedicate the TVA dam and the Great Smoky park, Labor day, and to make political speeches on both occasions. Representative Martin, the Republican national chairman, would like to know whether the political excursion into Tennessee went on the public expense account.

Nearly everything that Mr.

Tired Kidneys Often Bring Sleepless Nights

Doctors say your kidneys contain 15 miles of tiny tubes or filters which help to purify the blood and keep you healthy. When they get tired and don't work right in the daytime, many people have to get up at night. Frequent or constant passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder. Don't neglect this condition and lowerable, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes push out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Roosevelt is doing for defense is given a political twist and there is a political speech in every pronouncement he makes. His appointment of Mayor La Guardia on the joint defense board to plan with Canada was nothing but politics to carry New York City. Except politically Mr. La Guardia is head of the American section is a joke.

Apparently Mr. Roosevelt never remembers one day what he said another. He forgets now that when he was campaigning, four years ago, he said that the new neutrality law placed new instruments in the president's hands to preserve peace but that it would need resolute and courageous men in the white house and the department of state if the clamor for war was not to lead to war. He forgot that when he was demanding the repeal of the neutrality act. He forgot that he said that Mr. Hoover's efforts would be the ruin of the country and that the national debt would send him walking the streets, looking vainly for work.

If Mr. Roosevelt were to accept Mr. Willkie's challenge he would be unable to evade the inconsistencies which have characterized his two terms. Maybe he deceives himself. Maybe he deceived himself when he told the Democratic convention one night that he had "no purpose to continue in the office of President or to be a candidate for that office, or to be nominated for that office". Maybe he deceived himself in his next message to the convention when he accepted the nomination because "my conscience will not let me turn my back upon a call to service".

Maybe he deceived himself when he made it impossible for any other candidate to make a bid for the nomination. (Even Mr. Farley's was not a bid. It was an act of defiance.) Maybe he deceived himself when he not only drafted himself for the third term but picked a candidate for vice president out of his vest pocket and told the convention to like Mr. Wallace.

Possibly a candidate does get easily confused when he runs for a third term. There are no precedents to guide him. He is the first man in the history of the country to seek to extend eight years into twelve and put the sign of permanent tenure on the White House lawn. (Chicago Tribune.)

Merchandise exported from the U. S. in June amounted to $350,000,000 compared to $236,000,000 in June one year ago.

WALKER TAKES OATH

Washington, Sept. 11.—(AP)—Frank C. Walker took the oath of office today as postmaster general.

The oath was administered by Stanley Reed, associate justice of the Supreme court, in President Roosevelt's office. Walker succeeded James A. Farley, who resigned August 31.

WOULD SUCCEED DAD

Quincy, Ill.—(AP)—Guy R. Williams, 30, of Havana, is the Democratic candidate for Circuit judge in the Eighth circuit. He was nominated at a party convention for the post left vacant by the death last May of his father, Judge Guy Williams.

Williams, a law partner of Senator Scott W. Lucas, will be opposed by Maurice E. Barnes, also of Havana, the Republican candidate.

Roosevelt Opens His Campaign for Return to Control

Washington, Sept. 12—(AP)—Reaffirming a "supreme determination" to keep war away from American shores, President Roosevelt inaugurated his third term campaign last night by advocating compulsory service for industry as well as manpower, if necessary, and pledging that his labor and social program would expand rather than retreat in building national defense.

He coupled these definite statements with an attack on unnamed critics who "love the laboring man in November but forget him in January" and called for an end "to the sort of appeasement which seeks to keep us helpless by playing on fear and by indirect sabotage of all the progress we are making."

"Appeasement, incidentally as I use it," he said, "is a polite word for misdirected partisanship."

The president spoke before a demonstrative audience of members of the International Teamsters' Union (A. F. of L.) in Constitutional Hall.

Many of the delegates were in shirtsleeves. The president wore a steel-grey business suit. Just before he took up his manuscript to begin the 2,500 word address, a man in the rear of the hall shouted: "Give 'em hell, Franklin!" Roosevelt joined in the laughter.

He interpolated often. At the start he brought laughter by laying down his prepared speech and asserting he was "in a quandary" because he couldn't tell whether the address was "political" or not.

Declaring that weakness in these days was a "cordial invitation to attack," he brought loud applause when he added:

Still Hates War

"I hate war now more than ever. I have one supreme determination—to do all I can to keep war away from these shores for all time."

Not once did the president mention by name either the Republican party or its presidential standard bearer, Wendell L. Willkie, who is about to begin an extensive campaign swing through 18 states.

He led up to the question of compulsory service for recalcitrant industry by asserting, it was necessary that "every dollar of capital" share in the defense effort just as well as the men in the fighting forces and workers behind the lines.

He said the nation was about to adopt selective universal training of its young men and that, on the same principal, "no reasonable person can object to giving the government the power to acquire the services of any plant or factory for adequate compensation, if the owner refuses to

"Boy—will the instructor bowl me out! I forgot my parachute."

make its services available to the defense needs of the nation".

Applause swept the hall when he added "No business is above its government; and government should be empowered to deal adequately with any business which tries to rise above its government."

Attacks "Certain" Ones

Asserting that "certain employers, politicians and newspapers—all of whom are now active in this campaign"—tried to "mislead and intimidate labor" in 1936 by putting notices in pay envelopes to help "smash the social security act," he said:

"That kind of opposition comes only too often from those who regularly for three years and eight months block labor's welfare, and then for four months loudly proclaim that they are labor's true friends—from those who love the laboring man in November but forget him in January."

After reviewing his social security and labor program, he said he was convinced that "a breakdown of existing labor and social legislation would weaken rather than increase our efforts for defense."

"Continuance of them means the preservation of the efficiency of labor," he declared. "It means the return to work of several millions still unemployed."

Specifically, he advocated extension and increases of old age pensions, and expansion of unemployment insurance to cover more workers.

RELIGIOUS PAPER RAPS WALLACE'S CHANGE OF TONE

Brands His Acceptance Talk "Cheap Stuff"

By The Rev. John Evans

A prediction that Henry A. Wallace, Democratic Vice Presidential nominee, will soon rue his Des Moines, Ia., acceptance speech is made in the leading editorial in the current issue of the Christian Century, a leading Protestant journal of religion.

The prediction is based on what the editorial cites as the difference between Henry Wallace of old, known by Washington officials as "the goodest man in official Washington", and Henry Wallace, political candidate, who it says is "not too scrupulous as to means when it comes to gaining party ends."

Religious Talks Recalled

Wallace spoke several times as secretary of agriculture before religious gatherings in Chicago. In the University Church of the Disciples, 5655 University avenue, several years ago, Wallace told of his religious pilgrimage in which he became a convert to the Anglo-Catholic party of the Episcopal church. Prior to his appointment to President Roosevelt's cabinet he had served regularly as an acolyte in a Des Moines church. Other University of Chicago speeches emphasized "disciplines" in agriculture and industry which he described as springing from his religious thought and historical reading.

The editorial in the Christian Century expresses admiration for "the old Henry Wallace," but spoke of the Des Moines speech in terms of a nose dive from high ideals to gain votes. It also predicts that he, like the prodigal son of the Bible story, will come to himself some day and repent.

"We predict," says the editorial, "that the time will come when Henry Wallace will look back with bitter regret on the speech. . . . For Henry Wallace is too good a man to make that kind of speech. He is too big a man to come down to that kind of politics."

Terms Speech Small Spirited

"His speech was a ranting speech, a partisan speech, a small spirited speech. It was the sort of thing to be expected from a small-time politician trying to warm up a party barbecue crowd. It tried to tag all opposition to Mr. Roosevelt's reelection as Hitlerite opposition, and it dared to predict that a Republican victory would be followed by an American deal with Hitler."

"That is pretty cheap stuff, and Henry Wallace knows it. The old Henry Wallace would never have done it. But Henry Wallace, candidate for office, is evidently not the old Henry Wallace. He is just another politician. Perhaps after the campaign is over he will have a chance, like a certain biblical character, to 'come to himself.'"

(From The Chicago Daily News)

WHERE THE DEBT MEANS VOTES.

Beloit, Wis., Sept. 6.—I doubt if Franklin D. Roosevelt could be elected a councilman at large in any city in the United States except those large machine controlled cities. Why? Because the folks would know he was spending their money. And if he were lucky enough to be elected and told them, "Your city's debt is really not a debt at all because we owe it to ourselves," he would not stand the chance of a snowball in hell for even a second term.

Strange, isn't it, how some men are sent to Washington who do not have the business judgment of a Moon Mullins?

Ralph Fisher
Chicago Daily News.

Export traffic through Atlantic and Gulf ports in June, 1940 was about 64 per cent greater than for the same month in 1939.

Cleveland's major crimes decreased about 17 per cent in the first year the city operated its police radio and patrol system.

During the first three months of 1940, marriages in Germany showed an increase of 47 per cent over the same period in 1939.

Dungarees or overalls derive their name from Dungri, India, where a coarse blue cotton cloth was first manufactured.

IMPORTANT NEWS FOR HAY FEVER SUFFERERS

FORD HOPKINS NOW OFFERS THE ALLERGY Electric MASK

An advanced scientific treatment for Hay Fever, Rose Fever and Seasonal Asthma. The Allergy Electric Mask by combining mechanical and electrical means of filtration prevents 99.46% to 100% of all pollen and molds (inhaled thru the nose and mouth) from reaching sensitive membranes—thus offering Hay Fever sufferers relief even at the peak of the Hay Fever season.

Small and trim in size, lightweight and comfortable. COMPLETELY adjustable to anyone's face. The mask permits conversation. Can be worn anywhere, at home, at work, at play or while sleeping. Requires no plugging into an electric socket.
